Mahatma's New Move Under Discussion

Congress President Throws Light On Wardha Talks

(THROUGH A. P. AND UNITED PRESS)
WARDHA, June 10.

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the Congress President and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru had over two hours' discussions with Mahatma Gandhi at Sewagram this morning. Later, Maulana Azad said that the talks related to the present political situation in India, with particular reference to the war developments.

The Maulana replied "yes", when asked if the discussions covered also the reported new move by Mahatma Gandhi.

No date as yet has been fixed for the meeting of the Congress Working Committee, as the talks are still inconclusive, added the Congress President.

Maulana Azad told the "United Press" that they discussed the present political situation in the country with a particular reference to Gandhiji's scheme. The talks were inconclusive, and would be resumed to-morrow morning at Sevagram. It would take another three days to come to a definite decision.

Exactly at 3-30 p.m. talks between Gandhiji, Maulana Azad and Pandit Nehru commenced in Seth Jamnalal Bajaj bungalow. Gandhiji had to walk some distance, owing to motor trouble, in the scorching heat and was therefore behind the scheduled time.

Efforts At Evolving Common Formula

WARDHA, June 10

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, Congress President, arrived at Wardha last night. Pandit Nehru and other Congress workers received him. They had formal discussions this morning and then left for Sewagram for meeting Gandhiji. Gandhiji, Maulana Azad and Panditji will discuss matters at noon in the light of the earlier talks between Pandit Nehru and Gandhiji.

The position seems to be that everyone is trying to persuade the other, and it is likely that both Gandhiji and Pandit Nehru will place their viewpoint before the Congress President, after which will follow a general discussion on the political situation.

There is no indication so far of a meeting of the Working Committee being held, but it will depend upon how the discussions take shape; and if any common formula is evolved, it will be placed for consideration before the Working Committee. It is, however, doubtful whether these discussions will be over before the week-end.

No Likely Prospect Of A. I. C. C. Meeting

(From Our Correspondent.)
NAGPUR, June 10.

'No definite date for the Congress Working Committee meeting has been fixed and I have not thought over the question of convening the A.I.C.C. said Maulana Abul Kalam Azad in course of an interview to me at the Nagpur Station yesterday. Maulana passed through Nagpur 'en route' to Wardha where he will join Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, in deliberation with Gandhiji. Maulana seemed to be unwell.

MAULANA ON "C R.'s" PROPAGANDA.

Congress President is in correspondence with Rajaji regarding his recent attitude against the A.I.C.C. decision and the correspondence has not reached a conclusive stage as to warrant any decision. Maulana did not attach much importance to Rajaji's propaganda and remarked that Mr. C. Rajagopalachariar is only flogging a dead horse. Continuing Maulana Azad said: "No Congressman can take part in A.R.P. organisation unless it is completely unofficialised." He is returning to Calcutta after meeting Gandhiji and from there he intends proceeding to Sindh.

Rajaji On His Difference With Gandhiji

MADRAS, June 10.

Over four thousand labourers were present when Mr. C. Rajagopalachari addressed the members of the M. and S. M. Railway Employees' Union at Perambur on "Labour and Present Situation."

He said that much was being made of by his opponents about the differences between Gandhiji and himself. Gandhiji did not want war at all. The members of the Working Committee and the A.I.C.C. on the other hand had passed resolutions saying that India should participate in the war, but wanted that there should be a National Government and that this Government should have control over Defence.

After the failure of the Cripps' mission the Congress was adopting a passive policy. He (the speaker) wanted to explore fresh avenues for the formation of a truly National Government with a view to keeping the enemy away. This National Government could be formed only if there was unity and for that unity a Congress-League settlement was necessary.

Concluding he said, the formation of a National Government would be of immense benefit to labourers. While he did not want them to do propaganda for his proposals, he would ask them to think of their position under a National Government and work for the consummation of that ideal.—A. P.

AT BEHEST OF HIS MAJESTY

Duke Of Gloucester Visits India

NEW DELHI, June 10.

Lieutenant-General His Royal Highness, the Duke of Gloucester has arrived in India.

On landing at Karachi, H.R.H. was met by His Excellency the Governor of Sind, the Military Secretary to the Viceroy on behalf of His Excellency, General Sir Alan Hartley, Deputy Commander-in-Chief representing His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, Air Marshal Sir Richard Peirse, Air Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Vice-Admiral Sir Herbert Fitzherbert, Flag Officer Commanding the Royal Indian Navy, Brigadier General E. L. Naiden, representing the Officer Commanding the United States Forces in India and Major General N. G. Hind, General Officer Commanding, Sind District.

This visit of his younger brother is being made at the behest of His Majesty the King Emperor who has not himself had an opportunity to greet the princes, peoples and fighting forces of India directly on the Indian soil.

His Royal Highness came by air from Cairo, where he had just concluded a tour of the Middle East Command. He intends to see as many Indian, British and Allied troops as he can. He has already seen Indian troops in the Western Desert where, soon after his visit, they went into action and fought with the same spirit and gallantry which have marked their record in previous Middle East campaigns. He has seen Indian troops also in other outposts like Cyprus, Iraq and Iran, training and preparing defences. Now he will see them at home, recruits, trained men, and veterans of the Indian army and swelling ranks of the Royal Indian Navy and the Indian Air Force.

Some of the British Regiments of which His Royal Highness is Colonel-in-Chief, such as the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, the Gloucestershire Regiment and the Gordon Highlanders, have already done gallant service in the Far Eastern theatre of war.

His Royal Highness has a strenuous tour before him in the India Command. Although the visit is principally military in character, the Duke is keenly interested in Civil Defence and intends to see as much as he can also of the civil side of India's war effort, such as Air Raid Precautions and Civic Guards. In this connection, it may be mentioned that he is the Chairman of the Council of the British Red Cross Society and President of St. Bartholomew's Hospital and of the Royal Humane Society.

His Royal Highness is a keen student of armoured warfare and was recently with an armoured division in England, in order to gain more experience of armoured fighting vehicles.—A. P.

BATTLE FOR SEBASTOPOL

MOSCOW, June 10.

The Germans are still bringing up reinforcements against Sebastopol, but the defenders are successfully beating off all attacks, according to a front line despatch to the 'Pravada' to-day.

The Leningrad Radio to-day states, "Only minor air and land operations on the Leningrad Front."

The mid-day Moscow "communique" states "During the last night, no material changes took place on the front. On the Sebastopol sector of the front, our troops by artillery fire dispersed and partly annihilated an enemy infantry regiment."

The German forces near Sebastopol are being fast bled away at the rate of 2,500 daily. The battle there has become one in which Hitler's prestige is at stake. On the other fronts, patrol activity on the land and in the air remains the main feature. Sometimes forces go far beyond what would normally be regarded as patrols. On the South Western front, for instance, thirty Messerschmitts were destroyed in a sudden red air force raid sweep. The Germans are finding the Guerillas even a greater problem than usual the whole German rear to a considerable depth is pitted with small but determined groups waging war against invaders.—Reuter.

All Quiet In Central Pacific

LONDON, June 10.

All is quiet at present in the Central Pacific area, it was learned in American circles in London to-day Wednesday. Commenting on the Japanese attack on Midway Island, authoritative circles in London stated that it appeared that in this battle and in the action in the Coral Sea, there was no contact between surface ships, and except for submarine action, the battle consisted of air attacks on ships. It is considered both the actions emphasised that in modern naval warfare, surface forces must have air support.—Reuter.

SPANISH-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP

U. S. Ambassador's Plea For International Free Trade

MADRID, June 10.

Escorted by General Franco's bodyguard of mounted Moors, American Ambassador Mr. Carlton J. H. Hayes presented credentials at Palacio De Oriente.

The speech by Mr. Hayes and General Franco's is reply reflected mutual desire for peace and friendship between the two countries and the probability of growing economic relations.

The Ambassador said, the United States was devoted to the principle that international trade should be freed to the greatest possible extent from restrictions which had barred the nations of the world from free access to raw materials which should in justice be available to all the peoples on an equal basis.

The security and the well-being of every country was directly dependent upon the security and well-being of all other countries.—Reuter.

Hundreds Of Italians Surrender

LONDON, June 10.

Reuter's special correspondent with the British armoured division in Libya writes:—

Several hundred dejected Italian soldiers with their officers slouched into the British Division headquarters on Monday. They belonged to the Pavia Division which has the misfortune to be placed in the enemy line opposite to positions held by British regiments.

The Italians went out to prepare advance positions in front of the British lines. They were busy laying mines and digging gunpits when they were spotted by our outposts and immediately highly mobile armoured forces operating with lorry infantry went out. It was noon and the Chianti-minded, Siesta-loving Italians were lying about taking things easy.

The British force suddenly swept in on them from all sides. After popping off a few rifles and a machinegun or two, the gallant men of the Pavia division —several hundreds of them—surrendered to the small British force.

Viceroy Accepts Grady Recommendations

Cabinet Committee Formed To Co-ordinate War Problems

NEW DELHI, June 10.

The Governor-General-in-Council, it is announced, has considered the report of the American Technical Mission and has decided to implement its recommendations to the maximum extent possible.

CABINET COMMITTEE FORMED

In pursuance of one of the most important of these recommendations, a committee of the Executive Council has been set up to deal with the co-ordinate problems of war production, transportation, communication, finance, rationing of goods and materials, and all connected matters. This Committee will be known as the "War Resources Committee of Council" and will consist of:—

H. E. the Governor-General:—President.
H. E. the Defence Member.
The Hon. the Supply Member:—Vice-President.
The Hon. the Finance Member.
The Hon. the Commerce Member.
The Hon. the Communication Member.

The Committee will have a whole-time secretary. It will meet from day to day, and one of its first tasks will be to push on with the action already taken on the report. The Committee will, when necessary, co-opt other members of the Government of India, and its decisions will be binding on all authorities in India.

DIRECTORATE OF SHIP CONSTRUCTION

It is announced that the Governor-General-in-Council has sanctioned the creation of a new office under the Supply Department to be known as the Directorate-General of Ship Repairs and Ship Construction. This office will not form part of the Directorate-General of Munitions Production, but will correspond directly with the Main Secretariat of the Supply Department. It will be responsible to the Government of India and in appropriate cases through the Government of India to His Majesty's Government, for all work connected with ship repairs and ship construction.

Hitherto, "ship repairs" have been the concern of the Director of Ship Repairs under the general control of the Flag Officer Commanding, Royal Indian Navy, on behalf of the Admiralty and the Ministry of War Transport. "New construction", on the other hand, has been dealt with by the Directorate-General of Munitions Production in the Supply Department. The new organisation has been created in order to ensure complete co-ordination between these two functions and to facilitate rapid administrative and financial decisions.

FIRST INCUMBENT

Rear-Admiral R. R. Turner, Director of Ship Repairs has been appointed to take charge of the new office with the designation of "Director-General of Ship Repairs and Ship Construction". The Headquarters of the new office will be at Bombay.

GRADY REPORTS TO ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, June 10.

Doctor Henry Grady, who headed the Technical Mission to India, reported to President Roosevelt on Tuesday on the results achieved, painting a very optimistic picture of the possibility of developing Indian war production to the point where India can become largely self-sustaining within a year in many of their war needs.

Talking to reporters afterward Dr. Grady described the India-Burma-China front as "One of the most important after Russia, perhaps even more important than Australia".

Dr. Grady said the mission has made a number of recommendations, firstly urged officials here to send machinetools and various equipment for the expansion of India's industries, secondly made suggestions to relieve congestion in the western ports of India, thirdly advised the United States Government to send experts to India to take up specific problems to "Push the war production effort further than it has gone", and fourthly, suggested "certain internal adjustments on the Governmental side" relating to India's war production.

Dr. Grady described the Indian soldier as excellent, adding that India has the makings of a large army although equipment was needed.

He expressed the belief that the "mission's efforts were successful because we had the fullest co-operation of the Indian Government".—Reuter.

King George has been aboard an American battleship and a cruiser serving with the formidable force under the command of Admiral Sir John Tovey, Commander-in-Chief of the British Home Fleet, writes Reuter's War Correspondent. He did this during a three-day visit to the Fleet. United States warships have been attached to the British Home Fleet for some time but their presence has been a complete secret until now. Look out for FIRE-TRAPS!

ESCAPE is most people's reaction to fire ... but suppose you can't? Your worst risk in a bombardment is being trapped in the flames, so make sure that your emergency exits are all clear where you live and also where you work. You may have to lead a deputation to your employer or your landlord; at all costs see that your personal fire-risk is reduced to a minimum. If everyone insists, we shall be sure of mastering fires during air-raids.

A FIRE TRAP is set to catch you when staircases, windows or verandahs are blocked with old furniture, boxes, gunny-bags and rubbish—so that you can't get out quickly, and the firemen can't get in to help you or to fight the fire.

OR WORSE STILL, IS YOUR HOUSE A "FURNACE"?

Where the useless odds and ends are kept around a lift-shaft or a staircase, or in an inner courtyard, a perfect hearth and chimney is made up which the fire will roar through the whole house in no time. And these are just the places where fire-bombs are likely to get through! The roof and the space between the roof and the top-floor ceiling (especially in old houses) are other likely places where the fire will start—and where you will find rubbish stored!

CLEAR OUT YOUR JUNK!

Empty boxes, gunny-cloth and celluloid are perfect fuel for uncontrollable fires.

PAYMENT FOR HONORARIES

Emergency Compensation For Medical Officers In Hospitals

Payment to honorary medical officers attending casualties in Bombay hospitals during an emergency caused by enemy action has been sanctioned by the Government of Bombay.

Honorary surgeons, physicians and anaesthetists will be paid Rs. 100 a day, subject to a maximum of Rs. 2,000 a month, and honorary assistant surgeons, physicians and anaesthetists Rs. 60 a day, subject to a maximum of Rs. 1,200 a month.

This decision has been made because, in such an emergency, very heavy demands might be made on the honorary staff of Bombay hospitals. They might be asked to work continuously for several days and might not be able to carry on their ordinary practice.

Heat Hits Evacuees

LUCKNOW, June 10.

The United Provinces is in the grip of a spell of heat wave, unprecedented during last 20 years; and the dread of Lucknow, 'loo,' is taking a heavy toll of life specially among the evacuees.

A child evacuee aged two and half years was found dead in the railway compound in Charbagh. Another evacuee woman died of exhaustion caused by heat while on her way to the evacuees' camp. A third, sixty-year-old man collapsed on the platform as he tottered out of his compartment.

Thirty-six cases of pyrexia have been recorded in the evacuees' hospital during the last four days. It is believed that heat is responsible for a majority of these cases.—United Press.

In view of the abnormal rise in prices of medicines and instruments, the annual grants of Rs. 350 paid on this account to each allopathic medical practitioner and of Rs. 150 to each ayurvedic or unani medical practitioner subsidised under the Bombay Government's rural medical relief scheme, have been increased by Rs. 100 per practitioner till the end of the war.

Four-fifths of the increased cost will be borne by the Government and the remaining one-fifth by the District Local Board concerned.

Harwood League

W. I. A. A. AND CITY POLICE SHARE TWO GOALS

The contest between the W. I. A. A. Staff and Bombay City Police in the First Division of the Harwood League ended in a draw on Wednesday evening, each side scoring once. The match was played at a very fast pace, and it was replete with thrill and excitements. For the first fifteen minutes the Automobilemen had many anxious moments and Kadirvelu was called upon to save several dangerous shots. Then the W. I. A. A. forwards got going and Thomas put his side ahead collaring a neat pass from Murthy near the goal. Thereafter they pestered the Police goal but failed to increase the lead. Either their shots were too weak or the defenders cleared them away. Five minutes before the end, Lean, their outside left, levelled up matters for the Police.

Referee:—M. C. Kotian.

Derby And Oaks Latest

NEW MARKET, June 10.

Michael Beary has decided to ride Shahpoor in the Derby.

Clifford Richards accordingly rides its stable companion Ujiji.

The last callover was Ujiji 100 to 8 Shahpoor 20 to 1. But the positions are likely to be now reversed. Shahpoor is reckoned a good outsider to fill a minor berth.

Furioso was officially scratched at 9 a. m. yesterday.

Elenorkross is a doubtful starter in the Oaks in which Fred Lane is engaged to ride Valiance.—Reuter.

COLOMBO IMPREGNABLE

Defences Superior To Singapore

COLOMBO, June 10.

Colombo will probably meet any hostile air attack is the conclusion reached by the Commander-in-Chief of Ceylon, Admiral Sir Geoffrey Layton, after a thorough tour of the city's anti-aircraft defences.

CREWS OF PRINCE OF WALES' SERVING

It can now be revealed that considerable reinforcement of all arms including aircraft personnel as well as material has reached the Island and the scale of Ceylon's air defences is higher than anything Singapore had at its maximum strength during the Malayan campaign. Anti-aircraft guns bristle at various parts of Colombo with crews beside them. One of these is composed of personnel from Prince of Wales, Repulse and Hermes.—A. P.

He Dies Of Heart Failure At Age Of 135

AHMEDABAD, June 10

The man who was 50 at the time of the Indian Mutiny of 1857 has just died here. Among the few belongings he left behind which the police took possession as he left no heir, were 8 coins of the Mughal period.

He was a Muslim and was found dead on the verandah of an old mosque here. A post mortem examination revealed, he had died of heart failure. He was 135 years of age when he died.

Sitting on the verandah of the mosque he would reel out to eager listeners vivid recollections and anecdotes of the great Mutiny.—A. P.

Talk Of The Suburbs

(BY A SUBURBAN MAN)

BANDRA, June 10

From the interior of our Suburban areas comes the cry about scarcity of water. In places beyond Andheri where the people fully depend on wells for their water supply, nearly all wells are dried up and the people are experiencing great difficulties in getting even their daily drinking water.

Some of these wells have water at the bottom which is murky and in some cases full of germs. The people are forced to use this water, with the result that there is very grave danger to public health.

Attention of Government is drawn in this matter and it is suggested that Government must provide drinking water pipes.

WARNING TO BATHERS

The Suburban fishing season has come to a complete stop. The sea appears rough. It may be noticed that Juhu annually takes its toll of life at this time of the year. Bathers are therefore warned not to approach in the deep but to swim in the limits certified by the coast-guard.

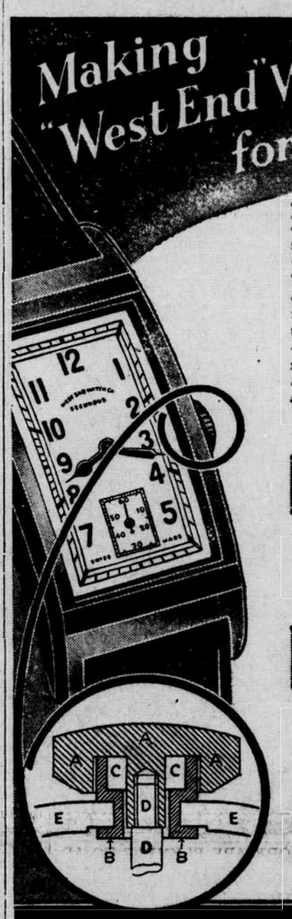
LACTOPEPTINE
ENDS INDIGESTION

Indigestion is the cause of nine tenths of human suffering. The food you eat should contain the basis of your health and strength, but how can you be well if it is causing you to double up with pain, "burning" you with acidity and producing distension and flatulence? You will obtain immediate relief from these ailments by taking LACTOPEPTINE

DIGESTS LIKE NATURE DIGESTS

That's the secret of LACTOPEPTINE. It digests just like Nature digests. It does, in fact, contain those very ingredients which Nature herself uses in the human digestion. Try LACTOPEPTINE after your next meal. You'll be delighted at the freedom from pain and distress. You'll be amazed how much better and brighter you feel. LACTOPEPTINE is obtainable in 3 forms, Tablets, Powder and Elixir, from all Chemists, Stores and Bazaars

Making "West End" Watches for you



THE WINDING BUTTON:— Every part of a "West End" Watch is a marvel of ingenuity and fine workmanship. Consider the winding button alone. This small but essential item by which a watch is wound and set is specially fitted in "West End" models to prevent the entry of damp either direct or by capillary attraction. Damp and perspiration soon damage a watch movement and their exclusion is just one of the advantages offered by "West End."

ANGLO-AMERICAN AGREEMENT

The "Hindu" has published what is said to be the main clause of the Anglo-American Trade Agreement. It appears that this Agreement was published in February last in Britain and America but not a word of it was transmitted to India. Even if the Agreement did not concern any other countries it should ordinarily have been reported to the world as important news. Much less important news have been, and are being, conveyed all over the world by news agencies. But the part of the Agreement now available in India makes it clear that the Agreement is sure to affect other countries including India. If so, why has there been studied silence on the subject by the Government of India and by Americans like Col. Johnson and Dr. Grady in spite of the publicly expressed suspicions of Indian businessmen that the Agreement might adversely affect India? Were the Government of India consulted before Britain committed herself to the Agreement? Were they given the full text of the Agreement at least after it was signed? If they were, why have they not published even a summary of it in spite of its clear connection with the American Technical Mission's Report? The Government of India owe an explanation to the public on all these points and they should take steps to have the full Agreement published in India.

Its Main Provisions

The Agreement is said to contain eight articles setting out the principles which are to govern the repayment of Lend-Lease supplies. The most important Article, dealing with post-war trade is said to be as follows: "In the final determination of the benefits to be provided to the United States of America by the United Kingdom Government, in return for the aid furnished under the Act of Congress, March 11, 1941, the terms and conditions thereof shall be such as not to be a burden to the commerce between the two countries, but to promote mutually advantageous economic relations between them and the betterment of world-wide economic relations. To that end, they shall include a provision for agreed action by the United States of America and United Kingdom, open to participation by all other countries of like mind, directed to the expansion by appropriate international and domestic measures of production, employment and exchange and consumption of goods which are the material foundation of liberty and welfare of all peoples; to eliminate all forms of discriminatory treatment in international commerce and to the reduction of tariffs and other trade barriers and, in general, to the attainment of all economic objectives set forth in the joint declaration made on August 12, 1941 by the President. U. S. A. and the Prime Minister of United Kingdom." It is also reported that the U. S. A. has made proposals to Russia and China for new Lend-Lease agreements embodying pledges for co-operative action after the war in expanding production and commerce and "eliminating discrimination in world trade by reducing tariffs and other trade barriers."

Publish The Text

That provisions like these are a great advantage to America is, indeed, obvious. She gets a control, however disguised, over the production and trade of all the countries benefited by the Lend-Lease scheme. And not the least important advantages are the reduction of tarrifs and other trade barriers and the elimination of all discriminatory treatment. This clearly rules out British imperial preference at the expense of America. But it may not rule out and may actually involve the extension of imperial preference to America at the expense of India. Here is one of the possible, if not probable, dangers of the Anglo-American Agreement to India, and this may bring more in its train. In the name of expanding production in India after the war both Britain and America may, in effect, though not in theory, exploit the resources of India in their own interests. Mr. G. L. Mehta, President of the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industries, commenting on the Agreement, has urged that the Government of India should not commit themselves to any trade or economic agreement affecting or involving India either now or in the post-war period without fully consulting Indian opinion and in consonance with Indian policy and should without exception publish every such agreement or treaty as this is a matter of vital concern to India." We shall not be surprised to learn that India has already been involved in Britain's post-war reconstruction plans as she has been in the war itself. The Government of India ought at least to state what India's position is with regard to the Anglo-American Agreement and publish the full text of the Agreement so as to enable the people to judge how far Government's interpretation of it is just.

Restore Prohibition

Among the resolutions to be moved at the next meeting of the Bombay Municipal Corporation is one requesting the Bombay Government to take steps to reintroduce prohibition in the city. The resolution is doubtless a sequel to the opinion expressed by the Federal Court of India that prohibition is not 'ultra vires' of Provincial Legislatures. As a result of relaxing prohibition in the city, the consumption of foreign liquor has considerably increased. The Bombay Excise Report for the year 1940-41 shows that the receipts under foreign liquor were Rs. 43,30,121 as against. Rs. 16,66,979 in the previous year. This steep rise by about 150 per cent is admitted by the report to be "due mainly to the modification of the prohibiton policy." The increase may be presumed to have been higher still in the year 1941-42. Increase in liquor revenue has also been reported in Kaira, Surat Belgaum, Sholapur, Poona, Nasik, West Khandesh and East Khandesh districts.

The report attributes the increase to "a rise in the agriculturists' buying power on account of a fair harvest and higher prices" and "to smuggling into the neighbouring dry and prohibition areas." We fear that other contributing causes are anti-prohibition activities by some local excise officials and their neglect to prevent smuggling. The report complains that the work of the Excise Force in enforcing prohibition "is limited by the lack of assistance from the public in many areas." Where there was any lack it must have been largely due to the anti-prohibition tendencies of the present Government, inadequate attempts to elicit public co-operation, and in some cases to disapproval of co-operation from Congress workers. If Government now decide to make up lost ground and make a fresh advance in prohibition in selected areas we are confident they will get all the co-operation from the public they need. The Congress Government got ample co-operation because they were earnest about prohibition.

A New Menace

Following an abortive adventure into the Diego Suarez harbour, in the extreme north of Madagascar, Japanese submarines have met with success in its south having sunk three merchant ships on the eastern coast of southern Africa. It is presumably these submarines that are reponsible for the first "black-out" and "alert" in Durban and Maritzberg. This submarine menace will become serious if it is not checked for it threatens the supply routes from Britain and America to South Africa, the Middle East and, therefore, Russia too, and India and, therefore, China also. The presence of Japanese submarines clearly explains renewed activity by the British in Madagascar, and it justifies that activity, too. For, it is unlikely that Japanese submarines are operating thousands of miles away from their bases entirely without the assistance of the Vichy French authorities of Madagascar. On the other hand M Laval is quite capable of secretly "collaborating" with the Japanese.

Frankly Speaking

Another Naval Battle?

In his Press statement about the Midway Island naval battle Admiral King referred also to Japan's earlier raid on Dutch Harbour and remarked that the situation in that area was still "obscure". That was a hint that something was going on. This hint has now been further emphasised by Reuter's report from Washington that "the United States Navy Department is unable to give information on the sea battle believed to be taking place in the area of Dutch Harbour." Obviously the Japanese has planned a double drive the principal one against Midway and the other as a diversionary move against the Alentian Islands. But this latter, too, does not appear to have brought them any results so far, because they have not even mentioned the action much less made any claims. And if they have failed so far, it is not likely that they would bring off a success now. On the other hand, their failure would be another important reverse. After Ceylon, the Coral Sea and Midway, the Dutch Harbour area was the only direction in which the Japanese Navy had not attempted to break out and been stung.

Libya Situation

The battle in Libya, we fear, is not going as well as was expected. At least this is what is suggested by recent reports and comments from the zone of operations. The situation as it exists at present is that General Rommel has established himself strongly on his bridgehead opposite Knightsbridge and has received enough supplies not only to concentrate his Africa Korps in and around the "Devil's Cauldron" but to increase his pressure on Bir el Hacheim. The position of this latter Allied stronghold is, indeed, far from happy. As a report says it is "not alarming" which, of course, means that it is not satisfactory either. Some fresh supplies, however, have reached Bir el Hacheim and let us hope that the gallant Free French and Indian troops who are defending will continue to hurl back the enemy's furious onslaughts as they have so far done with great heroism.

Rommel's Recovery

As to the situation on the main front, that is, the Knightsbridge, "Devils Cauldron" area, it appears that General Rommel has very nearly staged a come back. In any case non-official observers who were confident till only a few days back that the only alternatives for Rommel were to beat a retreat or get destroyed and were greeting the third stage of the battle as heralding a decisive British counter-offensive, now talk in terms of a possible attempt by Rommel to review his original grand plan of assaulting Tobruk. It is quite likely, however, that foolishly over confident once these observers are suffering from a reaction in the opposite direction The situation need not be so bad as all that. If Bir el Hacheim is held and repair and supply organisations continue to work smoothly, it is yet difficult to see how General Rommel can achieve his objectives. Moreover, it is quite possible that General Ritchie is keeping back strong reserves to fling into the battle at a psychological movement.

Plight Of Indian Evacuees

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—On account of the recent happenings in Burma and Malaya, Indian businessmen have suffered heavily, and in many cases they had to abandon everything that they had, and most of them have reached India utterly destitute.

To sight an example Rangoon was bombed by Japanese on 23rd December resulting in many dealers getting panicky and running away. Goods ordered out by them from Indian business houses reached Rangoon after 23rd December and delivery of these goods could not be taken on account of circumstances over which they had no control.

On or about the 20th of February Rangoon was evacuated and civil population had to leave. Some of the Burma evacuees have since then reached Bombay and have been trying their best to earn a living, but several Bombay business houses which had dealings with these Indian dealers from Burma and Far East having come to know of their presence in Bombay, have started threatening them with legal proceeding for their dues. These poor evacuees have in fact lost everything and consequently are unable to pay anything. It is time that either the Government of India came to their aid and issued an executive order that no legal proceeding be entertained by courts throughout India for the duration of the war or some other official or non-official agency be created by Government to probe into such cases. I also invite the immediate attention of the different bodies throughout India that have taken kind interest in the evacuation work of Indians to take this matter in right earnest.

I would also appeal to all the European and Indian Chambers of Commerce and newspapers, both Indian and English, all over the country to lend a helping hand in this deserving cause, so that those businessmen who have suffered for no fault of theirs may earn their bread in peace without any threat or harassment. I am sure this appeal of mine will attract the attention of members of the Central Assembly and the Council of State.—Yours, etc.,

A SUFFERER.

"The Ungrateful Mr. Shaw"

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—In an editorial article some days back on "The Ungrateful Mr. Shaw", you referred to Alexander Shaw as "an unknown British Film Director with not a single noteworthy film-feature or documentary—to his credit." Imagine, therefore, my surprise when on turning to-day the pages of "Movie Parade" by Paul Rotha, I find among films considered worthy of mention three documentary films and one instructional film bearing Alexander Shaw's name as sole or joint producer! And that was as early as 1936 when the book was published.

I do hope the rest of your remarks about Mr. Shaw were not equally wide of the mark?—Yours, etc.,

M. R. MASANI.

(All films mentioned in Paul Rotha's "Movie Parade" are not necessarily "noteworthy."—Editor "B. C.").

NO MATERIAL HELP TO AXIS

Leahy's Admiration For Petain

WASHINGTON, June 10.

The United States' Ambassador to Vichy, Admiral Leachy, who was recently recalled told a Press Conference on Tuesday: "The maintenance of diplomatic relations with the changing Governments of France has up to the present made it possible to assist the French people in keeping alive their hopes of eventual deliverance from the oppressors."

Admiral Leahy said that the French were overwhelmingly pro-American and hopeful of an Axis defeat.

PETAIN'S POSITION CLARIFIED

He expressed his admiration for Marshal Petain but said that he was "under constant cruel pressure from the invaders, which makes it extremely difficult for him to accomplish much of what he wishes to do for the relief of France." The maintenance of dimplomatic relations made it possible to "keep the Government of France informed as to the attitude of the United States.

"As far as I know, except for the agreement between France and Japan in regard to Indo-China, no positive action taken by Marshal Petain's Government since the Armistice has been of Material assistance to the Axis Powers"

PETAIN CONVINCED OF AXIS DEFEAT

After the fall of France, Marshal Petain regarded a German victory as inevitable but now he is said to be convinced that the Axis will be defeated. Laval and Darlan are said to hold opposite views. Axis Attack Repulsed

Br. Mobile Columns Continue To Harass Enemy's Line Of Supply

CAIRO, June 10.

To-day's Middle East "communique' announces that a large scale Axis attack on Bir Hacheim yesterday was repulsed.

BIGGEST "SHOW"

The Axis onslaught yesterday against the Free French garrison at Bir Hacheim was undoubtedly the biggest "show" since the enemy offensive started.

The Germans filled the air with stukas and hurled in an increased number of armoured vehicles and infantry from the north in an effort to reduce the French garrison. The latter delivered a telling counter-attack to the north towards the evening driving off the enemy after the British had come to their assistance earlier Thanks to this co-operation what was probably the enemy: Greatest effort so far to capture the fortress was brought to nought.

ENEMY'S LINE OF SUPPLY HARASSED

To-day's Middle East 'communique' states: "British armoured and motorised forces yesterday assisted the Free French at Bir Hacheim in driving off a large scale attack by the enemy who used an increased number of tanks and dive-bombers as well as infantry and artillery. Our mobile columns are continuing to harass effectively the enemy's line of supply from the West. In the Cauldron area, some of our armoured units were engaged in longrange duels with enemy armoured forces."

OPERATIONS IN CYRENAICA

To-day's R.A.F. Middle East 'communique' states: "During yesterday operations in Cyrenaica were concentrated over the Bir Hacheim area where our aircraft attacked enemy armoured units some positions and motor transport vehicles. Five Messerschmitt 109's were shot down and others probably destroyed. A Heinkel 111 was brought down in the sea off the North African coast on Monday night, four members of the crew being captured. During the same night, the enemy aerodrome at Heraklion in Crete and the Italian naval base at Taranto in Italy were raided by our bomber aircraft. Our aircraft made further attacks at Heraklion during the night of June 9. One of our aircraft is missing. Four pilots are reported missing in yesterday's communique now known to be safe."

ENEMY PLANES OVER EAST ANGLIA

LONDON, June 10: An Air Ministry 'communique' says to-day "Last night, a few enemy aircraft made a brief appearance on the coast of East Anglia. Bombs which were dropped did some damage but no casualties were reported."

ROOSEVELT EXPLAINS ANGLO-U. S. PRODUCTION DEAL

WASHINGTON, June 10.

Asked whether the new Anglo-American Production Board would aim at the standardisation of production President Roosevelt said: "We have been doing that all along and will keep on doing it."

He added that while Canada was not specifically mentioned, it was included for all practical purposes in the overall programme for co-ordinating production. The Combined Food Board would take account of the United Nations' productive capacity, thus showing where shortages exist. The Board will consider transport problems and the dispatch of surpluses to points where they are needed and will organise rationing where necessary By pooling information the Board would get a correct picture of the food problems, thus avoiding unnecessary hardships the United States might give up some things to the other United Nations to achieve an equal and just distribution of food.—Reuter.

It is reported that the trolley was negotiating a turn near a mountain range when it struck against the goods train coming from the opposite direction. —United Press.

NEWHAVEN (Connecticut), June 9.

"Asia is tired of being regarded only in terms of makets and concessions or as a source of rubber, tin and oil or as furnishing human chattel to work raw materials', declared the Chinese Foreign Minister, Mr. T. V. Soong, at Yale after receiving the honorary Doctorate in Laws.—Reuter.

The United Nations' Flag Day, as ordered by President Roosevelt, will be celebrated on Sunday next in the Viceroy's House grounds, too.

It would be a historic occasion. Delhi would witness the spectacle of Bearcaucratia doing honour to the Red Flag and in the Viceroy's own House.

* * *

Eh? Certainly. India's Flag will be very much in evidence.

You didn't know that India had a flag and don't know what it looks like? It's a pity.

But, between ourselves we also were not aware of it until we accidentally came across a coloured reproduction in an English Book of reference which informed us that it was "India's Flag".

* * *

Dr. Henry Grady, speaking at a Press Conference in Washington expressed his belief that the efforts of his Technical Mission to India "were successful because we had the fullest co-operation of the Indian Government."

Oh, yeah?

* * *

By the way, Dr. Grady holds, and, worse still, declares it publicly, the India-Burma-China front is "one of the most important after Russia, perhaps even more important than Australia."

What a very ill-advised statement to make! But we hope General MacArthur will immediately reassure and comfort Mr Curtin.

A Chinese official recognised that "the response from the United States and Britain to China's appeal for aid has been prompt and hearty."

In fact, extremely eloquent.

In a funeral eulogy Herr Himmler is reported to have declared that "Heydrich was filled with a deep sense of justice."

Quite true, too. Several shots were lodged deep into his body.

According to a British air correspondent "the R.A.F. is now organised to carry out 2,000-bomber raids on Germany."

And we are only waiting for a third 1,000-bomber raid.

TRADE BUYING IN N. Y. COTTON MARKET

Technical Readjustment On Loan Prospects

Bombay, June 10.

On Tuesday the New York cotton market was steady on improved buying and subsidence of selling. So far the improvement is of a technical nature and we will have to wait for definite decision on loan proposals.

The market improved on trade and mill buying and replacement purchases in anticipation of a technical readjustment on legislation for a mandatory loan at full parity with contracts scarce reflecting subsidence of liquidation and tapering off of New Orleans selling.

The market opened unchanged at 17.59 for July and declined to 17.58 which was the lowest level for the day. At this level there was general buying and July advanced to 18.00 which was the highest level. The market closed at a net rise of 40 to 36 points. Spot cotton prices advanced 43 points at 19.56c. per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

The New Orleans cotton futures market was fairly steady with renewed buying and closed at a rise of 26 to 30 points. Spot cotton prices advanced 21 points at 18.29c. per lb.

LOCAL SITUATION.

Messrs. Anandilal Podar and Co. state :— On Tuesday cotton opened somewhat steady and remained so for a while on moderate speculative support from Share bazaar operators. Later, prices fell on renewed bulls liquidation, though there was some support from groundnut operators at the close. The final tone was quiet but steady. After early recession on upcountry selling on early prospects of rains, linseed and groundnut prices recovered at the close on local support. Shares brightened on encouraging war reports but at higher levels the tone was somewhat difficult on the belief that prospective dividends are already in present prices in view of the additional appropriation needed for the extraordinary charges of war risk insurance and emmergency defence measures.

Following a rise of 40 points in New York cotton futures the local market was expected to open at Rs. 196 for Broach J/A. delivery but the market opened easy at Rs. 193 and declined to Rs. 190/8 on general liquidation. At the decline there was some covering and prices rallied to Rs. 192/8. As pointed out before in view of absence of transfer facility to new crop months and less inclination to weigh over cotton prices are sagging under professional liquidation. There will be occasional rallies and we prefer to liquidate holdings on strong markets. There was persistent liquidation and prices sagged to Rs. 182/8. Reactionary Feeling

Bombay, June 10.

The local Share Bazar developed a reactionary feeling with moderate realising. Recently the improvement was established with a small volume of business and to-days war news being slightly discouraging there was a marked absence of buying and quotations sagged under scattered realising. The market entirely depends upon war developments and naturally operators are cautious. To-day's quietness was more due to absence of buying than selling pressure Tata Steel Dfd. shares were quoted at Rs. 1612 and Ordinary shares changed hands at Rs. 317 Century mill shares were quoted at Rs. 465 and Bombay Dyeings were placed at Rs. 1242.

Wall Street market continued to advance for the sixth consecutive session and while profit-taking restricted numerous issues, fractional advances were plentiful. Hopes that the growing United Nations' successes would bring the end of the conflict appreciably closer were the main stimuli. However traders were continues on the belief that good war news may have been partly discounted. U. S. Steel shares closed 3/8 down at 46 3/8. Anaconda copper declined 1/8 at 24 and General Motors closed 3/4 down at 37 1/4 dollars.

London Stock Exchange

London, June 9.

The Stock Exchange continued to advance vigorously to-day though the gains in many cases represented marking up in absence of offerings. Gilt-edged moved up sixteenth to eighth and home rails around half. Oils were steady to little harder. Industrials were good generally including breweries motors textiles and stores, as also emmies and London brick but tobaccos were slightly reactionary. Kaffir developers responded to Cape support. Rubbers, teas, Mawchimines and Australian mines widely marked up as also European and Egyptian bonds.

The Half-Column By "Dim."

The following is worthy of reproduction from contemporary. The initials are familiar.

Sir,—Here is why Bombay's telephone subscribers use the telephone four times as often as New Yorkers. Firstly and frequently: "This is me. Hello, darling! Tired? Coffee stall—eleven thirty—cheerybye." Secondly and more frequently: "Who? Oh, hello! I say, did you see that tripe in the papers this morning—yes—no—one thirty—rightho." Thirdly and ottener: "Pesi? Dolly! Cocktail dance? Club—rummy—ablless Baug—tummy—daktar? —ispital—uthamna—three thirty—sahebjee!"

Fourthly and always: "...un, allow? ...en, allow!...allow?...allow! aray Chaganlal? allow?...aray Maganlal? allow! Aray bhai, allow? allow! mundi—aha, mundi—allow? —allow! —dana; —chokha—opening —closing— doogo—tigho—allow? —allow?— bajar?—urdho dippher vaicho—allow? —allow?—bolo!"

And boloney! Let's have the message rate.

A. F. S. T.

But AFST forgets Fifthly and always: "Kotan?" He also forgets Sixthly and always: "I say I heard from A that B told him that C overheard D and E discuss what he heard over the Tokyo radio yesterday." AFST forgets the most important of all: "Hello- - - sorry - - - wrong number."

All of which gives me an idea. Would you send telephone conversations in to the Half Column? The best ones will be reproduced.

All India Radio may consider giving a talk a week or as convenient to A.I.R. to students to get the student's point of view on the war and on life in general. A similar talk is being done by Miss Perin Bharucha (now Mrs. Ramchandra) from Delhi. Miss Bharucha is one of the joint secretaries of the Students' Federation and recently caused a sensation by being arrested in Lahore under the Defence of India Act, though the proceedings were quashed by the Chief Justice.

Congratulations to Civic Guard, J. N. Naigamvala who, according to a report in the "Sentinel" of Court proceedings, was congratulated by the Military Officer present in Court for his bravery in overpowering and arresting five allegedly-rioting soldiers single-handed.

The amazing effect of 'Phyllosan' tablets in renewing the blood, rebuilding a super-abundance of natural vital force, in rejuvenating the arteries and fortifying the action of the heart, establishes Dr. Buergi's formula as one of the great achievements of modern research. It is especially wonderful, because 'Phyllosan' tablets contain no deleterious drugs, no animal extracts. If you are beginning to "feel your age," if you are run-down, over-worked, nervy, devitalized; if you suffer from hardening arteries, high blood pressure or a tired heart—start taking 'Phyllosan' tablets to-day! If you take the tablets regularly, the results will astonish you.

"For rejuvenating the system"

"I am 60 years of age. My blood pressure was getting very high and I commenced taking 'Phyllosan.' I soon found my condition improving. I don't know of anything to equal 'Phyllosan' for rejuvenating the system."
